WHAT THE EXPERT SAYS

Patients who suffer from stubborn fat deposits that don't respond to proper diet and exercise may be candidates for liposuction.

BEAUTY REVEALED

Dr. Reichel offers a variety of procedures, such as liposuction, to help inspire beauty from head to toe. "I place a strong emphasis on body contouring, as I have seen, first-hand, how the results can help patients achieve the figures they've always dreamed of," says Dr. Reichel, who modifies her body-sculpting techniques to meet the individual needs of each patient. "By removing undesirable deposits of localized fat, I can recontour the body to more shapely, aesthetic proportions, utilizing either tumescent liposuction or power-assisted liposuction techniques." Dr. Reichel's comprehensive approach, however, doesn't stop there. As founder of Pacific Dermatology & Cosmetic Center, she devotes her time addressing a variety of aesthetic concerns—including scarring, laxity and hollowed features—to help patients turn back the clock.

"Beauty is ageless."

—Dr. Jennifer Reichel

"My experience with Mohs surgery has enabled me to understand the layers of the skin, which is of vital importance when administering Botox and fillers." Regardless of the procedure performed, one thing is for certain: "Patient safety and a conscientious approach are never compromised; there's nothing more important to me than the well-being of my patients." Pacific Dermatology & Cosmetic Center boasts a state-of-the-art facility with a dedicated laser suite. Self-described as "compassionate, caring and approachable," Dr. Reichel insists on spending ample time with each patient to diagnose their needs, personally performing her own procedures, including the administration of injectables. "I don't believe in delegating responsibilities. By seeing patients through to the completion of treatment, I am better able to ensure their safety."

CORRECTING VOLUME LOSS

Dr. Reichel performed a fat transfer to this patient's upper and lower face, plumping her deflated creases and facial folds. "Volume restoration through fat injections is a great option for those with significant loss of facial definition," she says.

Whether she's administering injectables or performing liposuction to remove unwanted fat, Dr. Reichel employs a keen, diagnostic eye. A leading proponent of tumescent liposuction to slim body contours, Dr. Reichel performs the procedure using moderate conscious sedation in her practice's AAAHC-accredited, and Medicare-approved surgical suite. In terms of noninvasive treatments, the dedicated dermatologist regularly uses a host of resources to restore volume, youth and facial harmony—without surgical intervention. "We may start with Botox to ease expression lines between the brows, use fillers to revitalize hollows, and then prescribe a targeted, at-home regimen to even skin tone and texture," she explains. "I enjoy the technical aspects this specialty demands. Every procedure presents a unique artistic challenge that motivates me to give my patients my very best, every time."
